game with friends in the Carrasco neighborhood of Montevideo. Today they reported that the mother of their children, who had been hospitalized for some time for kidney and liver problems, also died.

Robert Lima suffered a cardiorespiratory arrest in the middle of a dive with friends. One of those present tried to revive him for several minutes but without success, according to Uruguayan media. In the morning hours today news of the death of his former partner, with whom he shared two children, was known. Today the former footballer would have turned 49 years old.

The former charcoal defender made his professional debut in 1993 and won five Uruguayan championships before experimenting abroad for the first time. He also formed a central duo in the Sub 20 of the Celeste with Paolo Motta. It was in the 1999-2000 season when Funebrero hired him and had him on his team in that campaign. Later the defender would pass through Olimpia of Honduras, return to Peñarol and continue in Harbin Lange of China, Sporting Cristal, Shanghai Huicheng of China, Liverpool of Uruguay, Durazno and Cerro Largo, where he retired.

Lima had not stopped physical activity despite hanging up the boots. In fact, last month on his Twitter account he celebrated the reopening of gyms in Uruguay: "It is an important source of work. And also physical activity is more important for a person to lead a healthy life and avoid diseases. Many older people do physical activities as it helps to reduce stress levels, increases energy in general terms, reduces risk factors for chronic diseases. To take care of yourself is more important than ever".
